OREGON TO SHOW "THE POPPY GIRL'S HUSBAND"

What and where is the Barbary Coast? To be exact, there are two. The original was the "Coast of the High Barbaree" of old piratical days. The other and more modern, is the underworld of San Francisco. Today it is more of a name than anything else, for cleaning up days in the Golden Gate City have been frequent and the denizens thereof have mostly been scattered to the four winds of heaven.

The Barbary Coast of San Francisco is comparable only with the old Five Points of New York or Whitechapel in London. It is, or was—though it is still there as a shadow of its former self—the resort of the worst element of the city. Yet some of it was outward show, and the horrified slummers sometimes saw things that were really only there for his especial benefit. Yet there were tragedies in the district and it was never a pleasant place to find oneself in after dark.

The new William S. Hart picture, "The Poppy Girl's Husband," which will be shown at the Oregon theater tomorrow and Thursday, is laid partly in this section of San Francisco. It is said to be one of the most dramatic stories ever supplied the star.
